To the Members of the Class of 1959:

My congratulations to you upon completion of your High School course of study.

As you leave the classrooms and halls of the Port Jervis High School, may the many experiences you have had and the friends you have made be a source of inspiration and guidance to give you direction in the course of the wonderful future which lies ahead.

My very best wishes to each and everyone of you.

Sincerely,

Dear Seniors:

Congratulations upon your graduation from high school. I feel that the confidence placed in you and the sacrifices made by your parents, the school, the faculty and the community have been justified and amply rewarded. It is my hope that as citizens of this great country, you will accept your full measure of responsibility and direct your best efforts toward the establishment of a lasting peace and the brotherhood of man.

It is with regret that we see you leave this high school but in our hearts there is great hope that each of you will live and achieve in such a way that you will inspire us to greater efforts and service in our work.

May I extend to each of you the congratulations and best wishes of the school and the faculty.

Sincerely,

Louis C. Horsman

We enthusiastically started work on our yearbook almost immediately after school began. In November many of us participated in Senior Day. On this day seniors take the place of teachers and instruct in the various classrooms. This was a valuable experience for all of us, especially for those interested in the teaching profession.

The main part of our activities was centered on the raising of money for our treasury. At the beginning of the year we sold Port Jervis High School book covers; during the football season we operated a concession stand on the field; some senior boys sold a daily area newspaper to the students during the year, and in March we presented the senior play—actually a series of three one act plays.

As our senior year gradually comes to a close, we look back and recall our varied class activities. We would like to thank those teachers who gave up their time so we could organize and carry out these activities: Mrs. Dorothy Call, Mr. Russell Faiello, Mr. Harold Goewey, Mr. George Frank, Mr. Hillis McIlroy, Rosemary McClare, Senior Play Director; and Mr. Richard Coler, Yearbook Adviser.

The junior class each year has certain responsibilities to meet in order to raise money for its senior year treasury. The way in which juniors meet these responsibilities inevitably shows a certain quality of initiative. This year the junior class sponsored the Junior Newspaper; sold shakers and programs at all home football games; produced the play, "You Can't Take It with You;" and feted the seniors at the annual junior-senior prom, "Stardust." This year's junior class promises to have a successful senior year.

Now in their second year in the high school, the eighth graders are already becoming an active part of it. Realizing the importance of sports and clubs in a student's life, many of them have taken advantage of the available activities. In the spring, the class plans a cake sale to help boost its treasury.

The seventh graders have had a busy year getting acquainted with the school building, the teachers, and the curriculum. The extra-curricular activities have proved to be their newest and most exciting encounter in high school. Two new clubs were formed this year, and the seventh graders have shown their appreciation by their active participation. They sold Port Jervis High School pencils in order to start their treasury. They also collaborated with the eighth graders in presenting an assembly in the auditorium. The seventh graders have established a good start on their climb to the top.

Student

The Student Council started off its activities this year with a Hula Hoop Dance. To go along with the popular trend, some members of the council entertained at this dance with a hula hoop demonstration.

As our annual Thanksgiving Day Football Game with Middletown approached, the council again sponsored the Thanksgiving Day Football Queen. Since the game was played at home this year, we honored both the Middletown and Port Jervis Queens with flowered crowns and bouquets, and their attendants flowers. The council also bought a gift for our P.J. Queen.

To stir up spirit for this exciting game, a homeroom decoration contest was sponsored. Miss Harris' homeroom, 324, was awarded the red and black felt banner for the decorative enthusiasm shown in their room.

At Christmas we sponsored a canned food drive. Mr. Viglione's homeroom, 307, won ice cream cups for bringing in more than 500 cans. The total, coming to more than 1900, was given to the Salvation Army.

In its drive for better sportsmanship, the council donated basketball schedules with its familiar rules of sportsmanship printed on the back, to the entire student body.

To show our appreciation for our teachers, the Student Council gave a Valentine's Day

Teachers Tea. There will be another tea for them in the spring.

The council is now working on better study habits, a concession stand at baseball games, a spring dance, a square dance to raise money for the Goodfellow Scholarship Fund, and a summer fashion show.

The over-all objective of the Student Council is to further the close relationship between students and teachers, and to help our school progress socially and scholastically.

VENTURE 59

Plans for the theme and format of the yearbook commence in early fall. The adviser and editor enlist the aid of any senior with creative ability. Those who are able to perceive perspective and balance work on the layout staff; those who type precisely and expeditiously join the typing staff; those who have a flair for writing work on the literary staff, and those who enjoy meeting people and soliciting join the advertising staff. After school, each of the staffs does its particular job, adding its accomplished work to the completed work of the other staffs.

As the deadline approaches, and as all the advertisements, pictures and write-ups are layed out, the perceptions and dreams come into reality — VENTURE 1959.

Stella Martinowsky — Editor-in-Chief

The senior section of the yearbook requires careful consideration and planning. As D. Taylor and B. Ranich start to lay out this section, Mr. Coler points out the mistakes of past years.

During a lull in a writing session, L. Rohner clowns it up as K. Rohner and M. McAndrew discuss a possible change in a yearbook write-up.

National Honor Society

The students of Port Jervis High School received a wonderful surprise this year. At an unannounced assembly fifteen seniors were inaugurated as charter members of the Minisink Chapter of the National Honor Society. They were selected on their scholastic averages of three years and on personal evaluation sheets filled in by teachers.

JUNIOR NEWSPAPER

The juniors broke precedent this year and named their paper the "Junior Campus Cutups." Interest in the newspaper didn't last more than three months and the staff met with extreme difficulty in putting out editions after the first of the year.

Editor-in-chief of the paper was Jerry Butcher; the Assistant Editors were Dot Ryder, Nancy Fine, Nancy McArdle, Judy Weiss, Frank Bell, Ann Mullaly, Judy MacAlarney and George McElroy.

The Advisers were Miss Gay Gatyas, Mr. Gerald Dorion, and Miss Dorothy Evans.

Cheerleaders

The many sports enthusiasts who attended our games were led in their encouragement by our peppy cheerleaders. Both the junior varsity and the varsity cheered in new uniforms this year. In the traditional red and black outfits, they were active at both football and basketball games.

Vocal Groups

This year the vocal groups presented a Christmas Concert for the public under the direction of Mr. Lester. In May the groups plan to present their annual Spring Concert to raise funds for their expenses during the following year. These will include trips to other schools. Each year one of the groups takes part in the Orange County Music Festival. Throughout the school year the different groups perform for organizations on special occasions.

A good example of unity is illustrated by the magnificent way all the musical instruments in a band can combine their sounds to create harmony. Under the direction of Mr. Harold Neubert, the band performed at two exchange assemblies, a Christmas Concert, the annual Spring Concert, and all of the Duso League football games. Five members participated in the Area All-State Band in Ellenville.

Another important part of the band are the majorettes who, under the leadership of captain Stella Martinowsky and co-captains Susanne Schneider and Judith Weiss, led the band down the football field at all the games.

Senior College Club

President — F. Wagner; Vice President — D. Taylor; Secretary — P. Hunt

Supervised by Mr. Shaw, a Senior College Club has been started this year. Its purpose is to better prepare seniors who are planning to further their education in college. The club has invited many of the seniors from last year who are attending colleges, to speak at club meetings. The club hosted a tea for the teachers in the early spring.

Junior College Club

President — F. Grawi; Secretary — G. McElroy

The Junior College Club, like the Senior College Club, was organized to help the juniors in their preparation for college. They are advised on such things as College Board Exams, available scholarships, and the filing of applications for college. Such information will be very important to them.

Basketball

At the first game of the season, H. Boyd demonstrates the driving power which carried our team through a successful year.

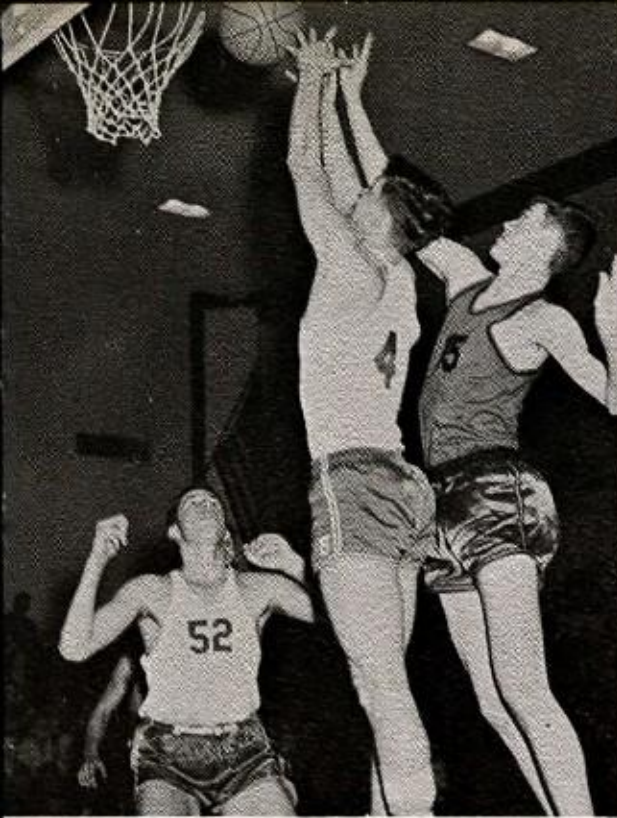

With only two veterans from last year's squad, Coach Farace's team finished the season with a commendable 15-7 record. Our record within the Duso League was a humble 9-7; six of our fifteen wins were not league games.

The highlights of the season included the upset victories over Liberty, Warwick and Kingston. The two most significant highlights were the victories which enabled Port Jervis to obtain the Village Duso Championship and the Section 9 Championship over Monticello and Onteora respectively. The scoring of Wayne Ranich, Harry Boyd, and Bill Pepper was recognized by all as a decisive factor in our favor.

Port will lose six seniors at graduation: Harry Boyd, Wayne Ranich, Hugh Spangenberg, Bill Pepper, Mike Lipman and Ted Perkowski. Congratulations to Bill Pepper and Wayne Ranich for making the second All-Duso team, and Harry Boyd who received honorable mention.

This year's team can well be praised for adding two more trophies to the trophy case. To the boys on the team and to Coach Farace, we extend thanks for providing us with an exciting basketball season.

Spangenberg is at his peak as he stretches for victory over Middies.

Dribbling is no problem to T. Perkowski. Here he is pictured in action against Delaware Valley.

Our Red Raiders won only two games of the eight they played, but the story does not lie in the scores alone. In the hard-fought contests our team provided us with the enjoyment of watching good football. As the season progressed, more and more Port fans turned out to support their team. The games were played to the best of the players' abilities, dramatized in the closeness of the games against Poughkeepsie, Hudson, and East Stroudsburg. Team spirit, too, was shown in the annual turkey day rivalry classic against Middletown High School in which the Raiders swamped the Middies by a margin of forty points, and thus retained the Erie Bell for the fourth straight year.

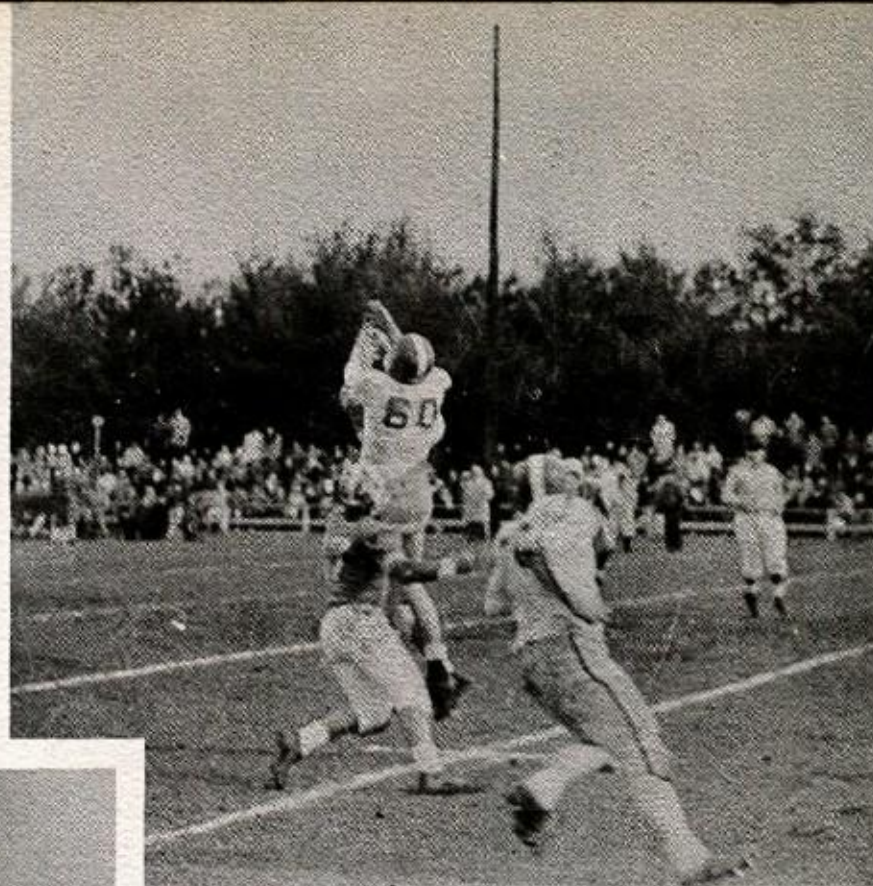

From this Port Jervis team, five players received DUSO honors. Junior Frank Bell and sophomore Doug Parsons were chosen on the ALL-DUSO first team as fullback and center, respectively. Bill Pepper made second team as an end. Harry Boyd and Bill Morgan received honorable mention.

The varsity next year will lose the services of Russ Backus, Tracy Todd, Art Aumick, Keith Startup, Ralph Hessberger, Bill Pepper, and Harry Boyd. To the advantage of Coach Joe Viglione and his assistants, Floyd Robbins and Gordie Short, many promising players led by ALL-DUSO's Frank Bell and Doug Parsons, will return to lead P.J. into its next DUSO season.

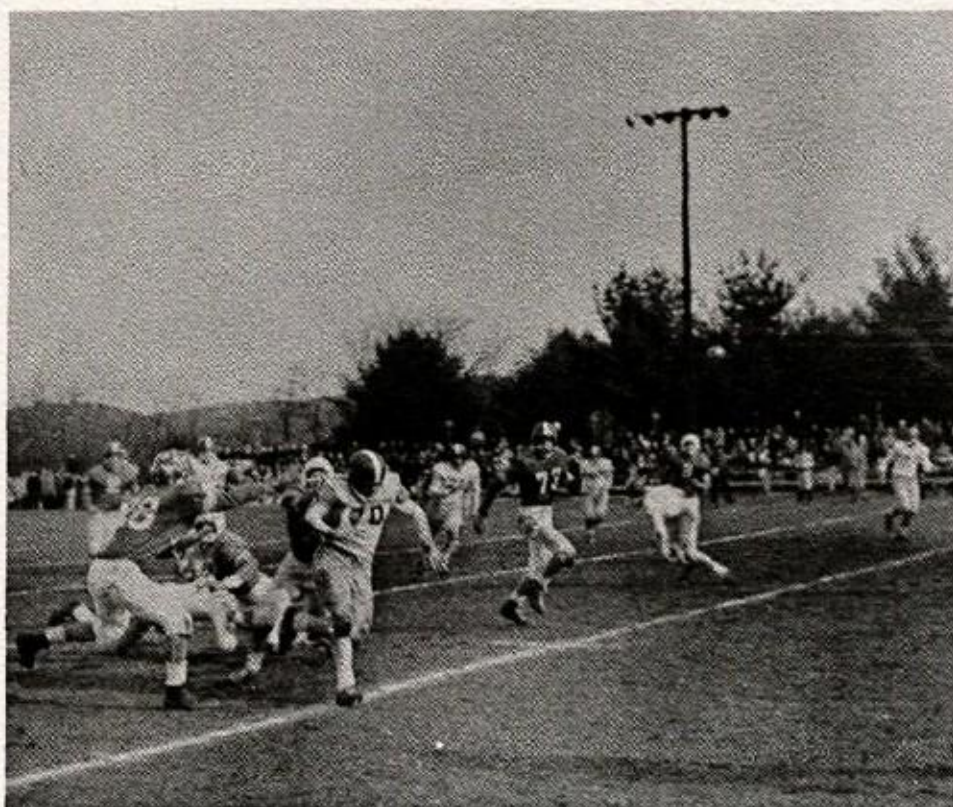

Our sincere wishes for a successful season and a DUSO championship go to Coach Viglione and next year's Red Raiders. Good Luck!

H. Boyd makes a futile attempt to snag an airborne pass.

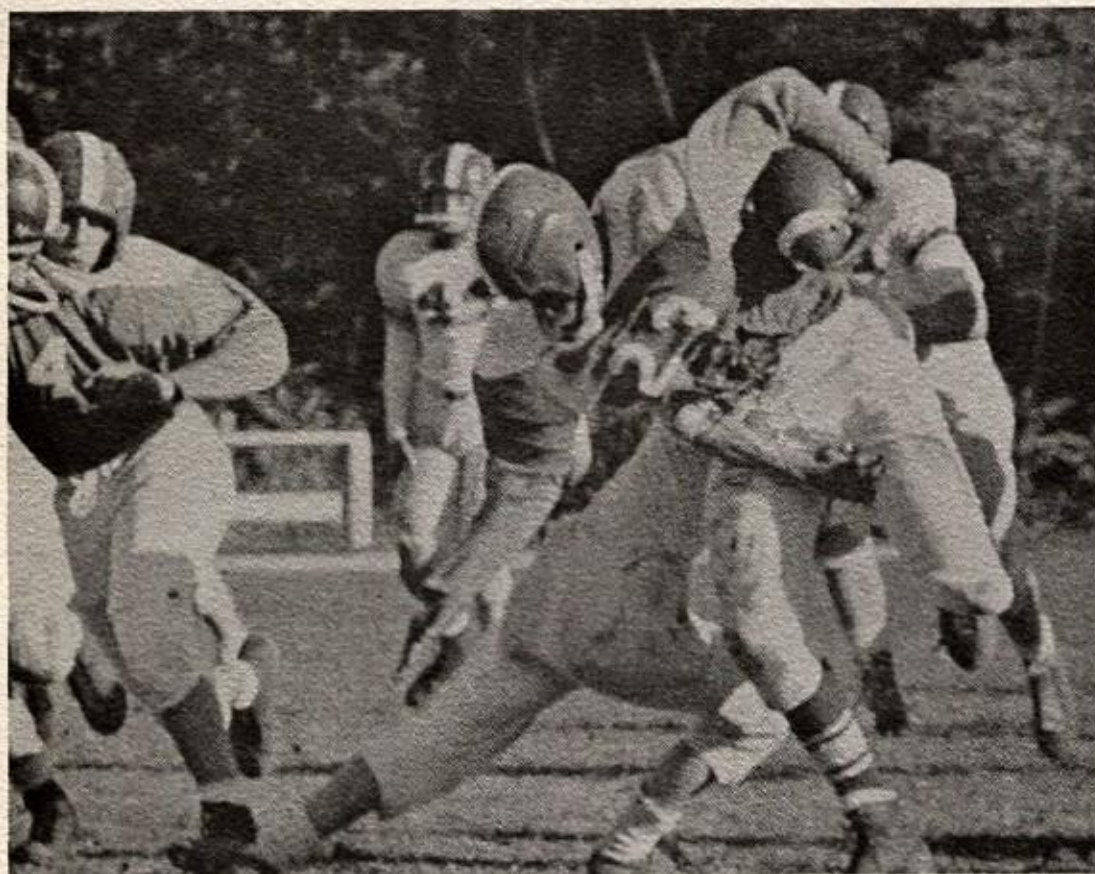

Port Jervis keeps the Erie bell for the fourth consecutive year with runs like this one against Middletown.

At a pre-season meeting, head coach Viglione (right) outlines the rules and regulations his football candidates will have to abide by. Coaches Short and Robbins (white jersey) are present to help select candidates.

Varsity Football Candids

Due to bad blocking by his teammates, an opponent is about to hit dirt after being tackled by a Port player.

This year passing was Port Jervis' strong feature as illustrated by this completion. K. Startup is the receiver.

22 CALIFORNIA AVENUE • PATERSON, NEW JERSEY

MULBERRY 4-4322

S. Spangenberg and F. Wagner take a last look around the school after graduation exercises. In years to come, although they go their separate ways, they will both share some memories of these years at P. J. High.
